Hammons Field Named Best Ballpark of the Year -baseballparks.com awards Hammons Field-

(Springfield, MO) In Sunday's pre-game ceremony, Joe Mock from baseballparks.com will recognize Hammons Field as "Best Ballpark of the Year." Widely respected in the minor league baseball community, baseballparks.com annually present this prestigious award to the best baseball park in the nation.

"The competition was really stiff, but Hammons Field stands out above the rest", said Mock. When describing the field, designed by Pellham Phillips Architects & Engineers, Mock said, "One would expect to see that a heavyweight like HOK designed this ballpark. You have to give credit to this small firm for producing such a warm and functional design." Larry Phillips, principle of Pellham Phillips said, "We are very excited about this honor. We take great pride in Hammons Field and we are pleased that Mr. Hammons trusted us with this important project."

Pellham Phillips Architects and Engineers have designed many of the area's landmark projects. In addition to Hammons Field those projects include, Chateau on the Lake, Juanita K. Hammons Hall for the Performing Arts, Second Baptist Church, James River Assembly, and the Busch Municipal Building. For more information, contact Brad Parke at 838.2610 (cell) or 865.1672 (office).
